VOLUME 22, No. 24

NARBERTH, PENNSYLVANIA, MARCH 20, 1936

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

The Political Pot

While the field cleared slightly last Monday, final day for withdrawing nomination petitions from the County Commissioners, there are still plenty of starters in the primary race to be decided by the voters on April 28.

Joseph J. Skelton, Jr., Bala-Cynwyd coal dealer, surprisingly withdrew his petition for the Republican nomination for State's Representative from the First Legislative District, the post Montgomery County Commissioner Fred C. Peters is relinquishing. Still in the contest, however, are Lambert Cadwalader, Villanova, Republican harmony organization choice; Mrs. Edwin C. Town, Narberth; Charles E. Claghorn, Narberth, and Howard E. Colgan, Bridgeport.

From Mrs. Town comes this letter: May I ask your support for my candidacy as Representative from this district to the General Assembly?

I have lived in Narberth for twenty-three years and have consistently served the Republican Party in both time and money. I have been on the County Committee, a member of the Mother's Assistance Fund, and on many legislative committees through the years, both in this county and in Philadelphia, since women have had the vote.

Economic government has been one of my chief interests. I have an agricultural as well as industrial background and feel that I am familiar with the major problems in Pennsylvania and, if elected to the Legislature, I could be of real service to this community.

MARGARET A. TOWN.

T. Duncan Just's withdrawal ended the contest for district delegate from Montgomery County to the Republican National Convention. The Ambler man will continue to support the candidacy for President of William Edgar Borah. . . . Unopposed now for delegates are Ralph Beaver Strassburger, Norristown Times-Herald publisher, and Miss Nancy P. Highley, also of the county seat. Alternates will be Louis A. Hirsch, Cheltenham, and Mrs. Caroline M. Huber, of Haverford.

In the Montgomery County Democratic camp an approach to harmony is being reached by the forces headed by Thomas A. Lineaweaver, Haverford, and Dennis O'Neill, Norristown. The county New Deal leader has made several open concessions to O'Neill, who wants still more and may get them.

Eight candidates want the G. O. P. nomination for State Senator in Delaware County. One is the incumbent, John J. McClure, of Chester; the other seven are McClure opponents who should split the "anti" vote very nicely. . . . Not among the seven, however, is Benjamin Franklin James, 3d, Radnor Township Commissioner. He has withdrawn along with Howard A. Zahm, Upper Darby, and Guy W. Davis, Chester, in an effort to "boil down the field." . . . Still running, besides McClure, are Thomas F. Long, Ardmore Park, Haverford Township Commissioner; W. B. Heyburn, Concordville; John Hamilton, Yeadon; Karl W. Johnson, Upper Darby; William L. Hammond, Ridley Park; George K. Woodrow, Collingdale; Arthur P. Bretherick, Darby. Geographically, Mr. Long looks like McClure's strongest opponent.

Low Wages Topic Monday for Narberth Co-Operatives

Meetings of Narberth groups to study the Co-operative Movement last Monday evening were well attended and produced some interesting discussion. Elmer Johnson, president of the Philadelphia Co-operative Consumers' Club, was a visitor and led the discussion in one of the groups.

For next Monday evening at 8 o'clock the question for discussion will be "The Co-operatives and Low Wages." It is planned to have a representative of the Philadelphia club to meet with each of the following groups, to which the public is invited:

Group 1—Miss Justice, 1104 Montgomery avenue.
Group 2—Mrs. Bolton, 231 Wayne avenue.
Group 3—Mrs. Perisho, 113 Chestnut avenue.

Europe Constitution Would Insure Peace

Document Like That of U. S. Would be Safeguard, Says Professor

ADDRESSES CLUB WOMEN

"The Constitution of the United States offers a very hopeful condition of what can be done in international relations," said Dr. Charles G. Fenwick, professor of political science of Bryn Mawr College, in his lecture at the Women's Community Club of Narberth on Tuesday afternoon. He then explained that under the Constitution of the United States controversies between any of the forty-eight States of the Union was settled by the Supreme Court, and by applying this method to the disputes between nations the result would be peace and not war.

The Rev. A. C. Kanzinger, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Ardmore, spoke on behalf of the United Campaign, and Mrs. Ralph C. Heath, the president, gave a brief account of several reciprocity luncheons she had attended recently.

The Fellowship Committee of the Women's Community Club held a luncheon and card party at the home of Mrs. Ann Darville in Narberth Hall on Thursday.

The next meeting of the Literature Department of the Club will be at the home of Mrs. J. Stoughton Erickson, 138 Kenilworth road, Merion, next Tuesday at 1.30 P. M. Mrs. E. A. Jamieson will be co-hostess. Mrs. William Livingston will review "Valiant Is the Word for Carrie."

Mrs. Clifford W. Bates, chairman of the Nominating Committee, has sent out ballots for the following officers to be elected this spring. They are second vice-president, recording secretary, treasurer and three directors. All members are to return their ballots to Mrs. Bates not later than March 24.

Mrs. William H. Boardman, chairman of the Art Department of the club, announces a tour by the Art Department of Montgomery County to the Willett and Yellin Studios on Tuesday, March 24. All club members are to meet at 1.30 at the Willett Studios, 3900 Girard avenue. Members from the Narberth club are to meet at 1 o'clock at the north side of the Narberth station. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Boardman.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Directors on March 31.

The first tour to the Lenox China Factory will be on April 2. Those who wish to go may communicate with Mrs. Boardman.

The next regular meeting of the club will be Tuesday, April 7, and will be open to the public. The soloist of the afternoon will be Margaret Harshaw. Mrs. J. Davidson will be the hostess.

Narberth Juniors in Fashion Show Next Thursday

The Narberth Junior Community Club will hold its annual Fashion Show next Thursday at eight o'clock in the clubroom, Library Building, Windsor and Wynnewood avenues.

The Chairman of Programs, Miss Evelyn Jeffers, has arranged the show. The Juniors themselves will be models. There will be an entrancing spring bridal party, and attractive floral decorations. To defray expenses, the admission will be twenty-five cents. Everyone is invited. Over fifty dresses and a large selection of hats will be shown.

The Juniors who will model are Miss Alice Francis, Mrs. Samuel K. Barclay, Miss Irma Ruth Minick, Mrs. Frank Hutchison, Mrs. Harold Laine, Mrs. Robert I. Fretz, Miss Daisy Ovolle, Mrs. A. Stoll Titus, and the Juniors' Senior Advisor, Mrs. Joseph H. Miller. Miss Evelyn Jeffers will announce the models.

Coiffures will be by local beauty shops, gowns and hats by Norris-town shops, and flowers by Albrecht. J. G. M.

Narberth Teacher is Bride

The marriage of Miss Emma Culley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Culley, of Camp Hill, Pa., to Mr. Alfred C. Merrill, of Philadelphia, took place on Saturday in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Merrill is a teacher of the third grade of the Narberth Public School. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill are residing in Philadelphia.

Speaks to Sportsmen

CLARENCE L. EDERER, former assemblyman of Melrose, Pa., who gave an illustrated lecture Wednesday night on his hunting expedition to Alaska before members of the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club at the Legion Room of the Narberth Community Building.

Lhevinne to Play at P.T.A. Meeting Mon.

Noted Pianist to be Heard in Narberth; Cubs to Get Charter

PHILA. MEETING MAR. 27

The Parent-Teacher Association of Narberth will meet at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the auditorium of the Narberth Public School.

"Influence of Music on Children" will be discussed by Josef Lhevinne, a noted pianist and member of the Little Forum, of Philadelphia, who will give a lecture recital.

The school orchestra will play several selections and a charter from the Boy Scouts of America will be presented to the Cub Pack of Narberth by William L. Clark, cub commander of Montgomery County. This Cub Pack, endorsed by the P.T. A., is for boys between the ages of 9 and 11 years.

As a Schoolmen's Week feature on March 27 at 4 o'clock will be a P.T. A. meeting in Room 18 in Logan Hall for P.T. A. members, both parents, teachers and also school directors. The subjects will be "P.T. A. Work" and the "Cost of Parental Indifference to Education."

Moderation Sought for Licensed Dogs

Commissioners Ask State to Give Owners 48 Hours to Reclaim

BOY AND GIRL BITTEN

A formal request that licensed dogs be impounded and held for 48 hours to permit owners to reclaim them has been sent to Secretary of Agriculture J. Hansell French by Montgomery County Commissioners, Peters, Ridgeway and Potter. Under the quarantine law, in effect for 100 days from Monday, all dogs licensed and strays, would be destroyed if found on the streets.

Lower Merion Police are now searching for two dogs suspected of having rabies.

One is the bite-and-run dog which Monday night bit Joseph Dougherty, 10, of Floyd Terrace, Bryn Mawr. The dog was being aired on a leash by a well-dressed woman who continued calmly on her way after the dog's assault on the boy.

Another dog last Saturday bit Miss Regina Meeker, 16, of Gladwyne, about the arms and body.

Another positive case of rabies was reported in Lower Merion Township by Dr. Raymond M. Staley, Narberth veterinarian. The dog, a collie owned by Frederick E. S. Morrison, of Howe road, Merion, was caught by Dog Warden John McGroarty last night. As the dog exhibited definite signs of paralysis Dr. Staley said it was a positive case. Another Shetland puppy, owned by Morrison, is under observation.

Narberth Junior Club Votes for Age Limit

Believe Organization Membership Should be From 18—30

ENTERTAINED SENIORS

The Narberth Junior Community Club, represented by the officers, board of directors and chairmen of committees, entertained the executives of the Narberth Senior Community Club, at a St. Patrick's "day-after" card party, at the clubhouse on Wednesday evening. The officers of the Junior Club formed the reception committee, and a special President's Committee, headed by Mrs. Mabel Hunsicker, a past junior president, arranged the details, which were followed in a decorative scheme of green and white.

At the last regular meeting of the Junior Club, held March 12, a forum on the subject of "When is a Junior No Longer a Junior." After a short business session, the President, Miss Alice Francis, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Charles K. Savage, vice-chairman of Juniors of the Southeastern District, and chairman of Montgomery County Juniors.

Mrs. Ralph Heath, an invited guest of the Juniors, attended the closed meeting "ex-officio" and expressed a personal word of good will and affirmation of friendliness for the Juniors who would be likely prospects for some other club activities after graduation from the Junior group, should such a step be taken—many Junior members, representing a great variety of ages, expressed personal opinions on the question of whether an age limit should be imposed at all, and if so, what the time cycle should be.

A debate resulted in a conclusion being reached, by vote, to express a club opinion to the State Chairman of Juniors that Narberth favors an age limit being passed by the State, and suggests the years from 18 to 30 as being appropriate to Junior membership. Unsettled was the question

Boro Summer School Assured This Year

Five-Week Session Approved; Teachers to Attend Schoolmen's Week

BUDGET IS CONSIDERED

Despite the fact that the University of Pennsylvania will be unable to furnish teachers for summer schools this year, Narberth will have a summer school. It was so decided by the Borough School Board at its March meeting Tuesday night, with Dr. LeRoy A. King, president, presiding.

Because of the excellent work that has been accomplished in past summer sessions, the Board agreed with Principal W. J. Drennen that, if possible, the school should be held for five weeks of six days each as heretofore.

Mr. Drennen assured the members that he could obtain, without cost, the services of a number of apprentice teachers who would be glad to receive the training and credits given for such work. Last summer 110 pupils were enrolled for necessary work in making up studies from the fourth to the eighth grade inclusive.

On Thursday and Friday afternoons of next week, March 26 and 27, the borough school teachers will attend sessions of the Schoolmen's Week program in Philadelphia, giving the pupils two half-holidays.

The session was chiefly occupied by a discussion of next year's budget, which will be passed at the April 17 session. Also considered were the proposed restoration of the teachers' pay cuts and the tax rate for the coming year. Half of the 1932 five per cent cut was restored last year.

William H. Durbin, of the firm of Durbin & Howard, appeared before the Board in the interest of school insurance and offered to make a survey if the Board so desired. No action was taken, but the matter will be considered. Mr. Durbin commended the Board for carrying a full coverage against fire loss. The buildings and contents are now insured for a total of $154,500.

The Grist Mill

In the spring a young man's fancy may lead him into dire consequences.

John Camp Abney, Jr., just turned 21, came North from Lampasas, Tex. He tried to see Virginia Carnes, 19, student from Ohio at the Hareum School in Bryn Mawr. Miss Carnes was kind but firm about mixing romance and studies at a fashionable school for young ladies.

Whereupon he decided to show the world that a Southerner, spurned, is mean to mess with. He collected his .32 caliber revolver, blackjack, screw-driver and flashlight and proceeded to "borrow" the automobile of Dr. Richard Ellison, Bryn Mawr dentist.

In the toils of the Lower Merion law, the intercession of Miss Esther Blankinship, 17, Miss Carnes' roommate, was unavailing and things looked bad from his cell until Father Abney flew here from his district judgeship in Texas, straightened out the local tangle satisfactorily to local authorities by a promise to straighten out the young man when they reached home.

From Narberth: "Where is the fire? All the sirens are screeching."

From Merion: "Was that a gas station explosion?"

From Bala-Cynwyd: "What is this bombing anyhow, a Communist uprising?"

Such were the telephone calls received by this newspaper's office last Monday from 8.20 to 8.30.

The answer: Opening of the United Campaign Exposition at Convention Hall with noise and fireworks.

Comment: It probably won't hurt the cause, but it certainly won't help it.

The Main Line's "smoke eaters" seem to have dedicated April to something more appetizing. Following the Narberth firemen's banquet on April 16, a week later, April 23, will come the annual feast of the Merion Company of Ardmore. . . . At present "smoke eaters" is a literal designation, according to many of the volunteers, because of the epidemic of brush fires to which they have been called.

Local Movies

"Professional Soldier" at Narberth; "Ceiling Zero" and "Rose of Rancho" Next

"Professional Soldier," this week-end's show at Narberth, brings Victor McLaglen and Freddie Bartholomew in a dramatic hit with comedy undertone, highly recommended.

James Cagney, Stuart Erwin, June Travis and Pat O'Brien are due Monday and Tuesday in "Ceiling Zero," thrilling aviation story of a reckless aviator in the air mail service.

John Boles and Metropolitan's Gladys Swarthout will sing and Willic Howard will amuse in "Rose of the Rancho," Wednesday and Thursday. Lovely musical numbers are given against the colorful background of early Spanish-California days.

That sensational success, "The Informer," is coming back next week-end, so that Narberth patrons may enjoy the performance that won Victor McLaglen acting honors for the year.

Seats are being reserved for March 30 and 31, when an exclusive Main Line showing will be given of "A Midsummer Night's Dream"—Max Reinhardt's celebrated production of the Shakespearean comedy-fantasy, with music by Mendelssohn and acting by a distinguished cast.

Egyptian Presents "Rose Marie"; "Magnificent Obsession" is Coming

"Rose Marie," now at the Egyptian, brings Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in a musical film of excellent plot, beautiful scenic background and highly artistic singing and acting. The music includes "Romco and Juliet," "La Tosca," the stirring songs of Canadian Mounties and Indian festival music and dances. Friml's "Indian Love Call" is, of course, included. An accompanying short subject is a timely Fitzpatrick Traveltalk, "Modern Tokyo."

Main Line Junior Cinema Alliance offering 10.30 this Saturday morning is L. Frank Baum's fanciful, amusing story, "The Wizard of Oz"—and accompanying Walt Disney cartoons.

Girl Scout News

The Leaders' Association of the Main Line District 8, Girl Scouts of America, met on Monday at their headquarters in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. The Flying Squadron composed of Mrs. Leonard D. Frescoln, chairman of the Camp Committee on the Philadelphia Council; Miss E. Gwen Martin, representing Troop Camping and Miss Frances Brown in charge of the licensing of leaders for week-end trips and hiking gave talks which whetted the enthusiasm of their listeners in day, weekend and established camping. A delicious supper was served by Sue Gilhams, Betty Roberts and Paula Van Valkenburgh all of whom are members of Wynnewood Troop 214. The Troop Committee in charge of the supper were Chairman Mrs. Henry V. Massey, of Wynnewood; Mrs. H. S. Gilhams, Mrs. L. M. Parsons, Mrs. Clifford M. Roberts and Mrs. R. R. Van Valkenburgh, of Wynnewood. Mrs. Carl Morken is captain of the troop which meets at Christ Church, Haverford and Manoa roads, every Wednesday at four o'clock.

Merion Troop 207, with Miss Natalie Beyer as captain, Miss Carolyn Beyer as lieutenant and Mrs. Homer Eachus assisting, had a Court of Awards at the Merion Tribute House Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Henry D. Booth, Jr., chairman of the Main Line District Girl Scout Committee, presented the second class rating to Jeanne Fiske and invested as Tenderfoot Scouts Helen Blakeman, Winifrede Devan, Phyllis Farrington, Nancy Graham, Grace Harris, Patricia Johnson, Betsy Kennedy, Virginia Lean, Jocelyn McIntyre and Marjorie Stelwagon. Mrs. Miner W. Merrick, chairman of the Main Line Badges and Awards Committee, presented the Health Winner Badge to Christine Allen, Jean Maddock, Marian Miller, Kitty Miller, Cynthia Rowan, Phyllis Smith and Ann Wetherald. Mrs. Merrick presented Housekeeper and Homemaker Badges to Eleanor Andrews, Mary Dunlap, Julie Rowan and Constance Wetherald. Twenty-six guests were present.

The three Narberth Troops 8, 47 and 125 have presented the Narberth Community Library Memorial Collection with "The Girl Scout Handbook" and "Juliette Low and the Girl Scouts" in memory of the founder. The Narberth Girl Scouts put on a successful program at the Narberth School to commemorate Juliette Low, the founder of the movement. Mrs. Theodore Stieber, captain of Troop 47, was the leader in charge.

A Girl Scout Exhibit may be found in the window of the Narberth Coal Company which includes a replica of a Girl Scout Camp, a knot board, in addition to other handiwork and articles of scouting interest. The background was painted by Miss Helen Landers.

The annual Patrol Leaders' Conference is to be held today (March 20th) from 4.15 to 6 P. M., at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. Each of the 22 troops on the Main Line will be represented by its patrol leaders, when plans for the coming year will be discussed.

In Troop 125, Narberth, Mary McCafferty was invested at an impressive candle ceremony at the close of the Monday night meeting.

Troop 8 has invited the Scouts of Troop 125 to join them in a swimming outing to be held April 11 at the Y. M. C. A.

All the girls are trying to reach the next rank before the Court of Awards on June 1, 1936. Katrina Hoyt and Catherine Ridge passed their Tenderfoot test.

The girls' observation was tested by a game. Fifteen objects were laid on the table. The girls were given thirty seconds to look at the things. Then they went away and wrote as many things as they could remember.

Troop 8

After the flag ceremony which opened the meeting of Troop 8 last Tuesday, the group discussed the plans made by the Court of Honor the preceding Saturday.

The annual Court of Awards will be held Tuesday, May 5. At this meeting all the badges earned during the year will be presented to the girls. A hike was planned and announced for this Saturday.

Following a game each Patrol held its meeting. The younger girls were instructed what to bring and how to prepare for the hike.

The Scouts spent the latter part of the meeting in their respective study classes. Quite a large Tenderfoot class was formed and the girls made a good deal of progress. This class studied the flag and learned of its origin, when and where it should be displayed and the respect due to the flag. The second and first class groups studied the Morse Code.

Mrs. Julia G. Warner

The funeral of Mrs. Julia G. Warner, widow of Carden Warner, and a resident of Narberth for many years, was held Monday from her home, 1103 Montgomery avenue, with interment in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Warner was a member of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, Narberth, and a director of the Narberth Branch of the Needlework Guild.

Two sons, Frederick T. Warner, Narberth, and Dr. C. F. Warner, Washington, D. C., survive her. She was a sister of Mrs. D. H. Vogel, Narberth.

Borough Health Officer George B. Suplee reports 18 new cases of contagious disease in Narberth in the period, February 18 to March 17. Fourteen are chickenpox cases.

Autocar "In the Black" for Last Six Months

Sales Surge Ahead as Old Small Buyers Resume Demand

FINANCE PLAN APRIL 1ST

An upturn in the heavy-duty truck industry was disclosed at the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Autocar Company in Ardmore last Friday when the verbal report of Robert P. Page, Jr., president, indicated that the company was "in the black" for the final quarter of 1935 and that so far in 1936 sales were running 100 per cent of the corresponding months of last year. Mr. Page stated that the upturn was not due to a few large orders, but that orders were coming principally from smaller concerns that had been out of the market for several years.

After the board of directors had been re-elected, the stockholders were asked to consider a plan of refinancing the company's outstanding bonds, amounting to over $900,000, which come due on May 1, 1937. There was a long discussion of the plan of refinancing, which had previously been approved by the board of directors, and finally an adjournment until April 1 was taken in order to give the Clarke family faction, who were represented by Thomas Hart, of Hepburn & Norris, Philadelphia attorneys, more time to consider the proposal.

as to "where shall we go from here?" among the girls who would graduate from the club should such an age restriction be passed, but it seemed assured, from the interest shown by members of this group, that their clublife would certainly continue in some other useful form. Mrs. Savage outlined the plan of an Evening Group under Senior organization, yet with officers and freedom of action entirely independent. No definite action came from this discussion, it being deemed wisest to delay a decision until after the State Convention at Williamsport in May, when resolutions respecting the age question will probably be brought forth. The Board of Directors served refreshments at the close of the session.

Neglect of Residences Injures Neighborhood

Builder Points Out Need for Renovation of Old Homes

A serious difficulty will confront many home owners in suburban locations now that residential construction show evidences of material progress, points out Joseph R. Culhane, manager of sales and construction for J. Howard Mecke, Jr., builder of American homes. This situation, which he says is already very apparent in many sections, is the lack of attention given during the last five years or so by scores of owners to the proper upkeep of their homes. "Many owners have recognized this situation, as has been seen in the large volume of modernization and renovation that has been accomplished in suburban centers within the last two years. Yet the fact remains that many hitherto good homes have been sadly neglected. This is not only detrimental to the owners," says Mr. Culhane, "but is extremely detrimental to the immediate neighborhood."

"Not only is the equipment of the older dwellings outmoded, but many have been allowed to deteriorate through want of paint and minor repairs, roofing has been improperly patched, and the grounds have not received proper care."

Sewing Projects Planned

The State WPA is planning three sewing projects locally, one in the V. F. W. building, Bryn Mawr, another at the Preston School, Bryn Mawr, and the third at Temple Lutheran Church, Brookline. Sewing machines will be installed and work given to about 220 unemployed Lower Merion and Haverford Township women.

Mrs. John D. Gill, chairman of International Relations for Montgomery County, spoke at the all-day meeting of the Woman's Club of Ridley Park Monday. Her topic was "Violation of the Locarno Pact." She also spoke before the Oak Lane Review Club Wednesday, when her topic was "Hitler's Peace Proposals."

Robert J. Nash reports the sale to F. R. Leathers of the new all-stone residence at Prescott and Lafayette roads, Merion Park, Lower Merion Township, built by Martin Molony and occupying a lot about 75 feet by 135 feet. The residence contains ten rooms and three baths and attached two car garage. The property was held for sale at $21,500. This is one of two new homes just completed and now both are sold. The building of three additional new homes in this development is about to be started to be available for occupancy in four months.

Urge Property Owners Give Trees Inspection

J. C. Kenealy, acting tree warden of the Shade Tree Commission of Lower Merion Township, in a communication just issued, urges on property owners careful attention to tree sanitation during the next few weeks. Mr. Kenealy writes:

Effect of Storms

As the severe winter storms seem to be over, the importance of the damage to shade tree appears to lessen. When the broken branches are picked up and hauled away, many people will think the storms' effect on shade trees is at an end. However, the damage has only started to affect the trees that have suffered by having their branches twisted and broken. The most obvious and probably the primary consideration is the removal of all broken branches and stubs and the treatment of wounds with a good pruning dressing. It may be desirable to cable certain limbs that have been strained, but care must be taken not to permit unnecessary and expensive cabling. All scars and exposed areas should be carefully traced and treated to keep out fungus diseases.

Dutch Elm Disease

The Dutch Elm Disease has been playing havoc in our neighboring States with the American Elm, Queen of the American Tree. If we are to keep this disease out of Pennsylvania, it is absolutely necessary that we maintain to a high degree the vitality of our Elms.

It will be necessary to keep them thoroughly pruned; that is, the removal of all dead and dying wood and its destruction by burning. In the case of dead trees they should be removed at once, otherwise there may be a large local bark beetle population to carry the disease. The infection of one tree will result in the disease being spread with great rapidity.

All elms should be pruned, fertilized and sprayed, and carefully watched for any signs of disease. Many twigs may be found that look suspicious. These should be sent to the Shade Tree Commission for examination.

Spring Dormant Spraying

This is an application of spray material made while the plant is in a dormant, or not active growing condition, such as the period between the dropping of the leaves in the fall and the start of the new growth in the spring. Theoretically, dormant spray may be applied at any time during this period but in practice it has been found that in the early spring the tree is less liable to injury, and insects beginning to stir from their winter rest, are slightly more susceptible. Dormant sprays are contact poisons in concentrated form, used to kill the overwintering eggs and insects hidden in cracks and bark crevices on the under side of twigs and around leaf scars and buds. They are directed against scales of all types, overwintering eggs of red mite and some aphids, such as the wooly and beech aphid.

The most commonly used material for dormant sprays is called miscible oil. Miscible oils are usually mineral and vegetable oil compounds, manufactured and sold under various trade names and used at dilutions ranging from 1 part oil to 15 to 25 parts water; but the manufacturer's directions should be followed exactly.

Deciduous trees should be sprayed with oils before the bud breaks in the spring; evergreens somewhat later, before the new growth starts, but with a weaker solution. To avoid injury in using oil sprays, spray only on bright days when the temperature is above 40 degrees F. and not likely to fall below it for some time. Oil sprays should not be used on any plants where the stems or leaves form a cup or cavity from which the oil will not drain. They should not be used on Sugar Maples and Walnuts and Magnolias and several evergreens.

Remove Dead Wood

Before spraying it is well to remove all dead wood from the trees or shrubs, as dead wood harbors many insects and their removal will lessen the number of insects to control by spray.

Only experienced men should be permitted to perform tree work. Ignorance in tree work is more harmful than complete negligence.

It is interesting to note for future planting which trees are more able to withstand the elements. Quick growing and naturally brittle trees are the first to suffer. It has long since been realized that Silver Maples, Poplars and Willows are undesirable shade trees. It is hoped that wherever they have been mutilated by the storms, they will be removed completely and replaced by a sturdy tree rather than merely topped. Indiscriminate topping is most unsightly and should be discouraged. It only delays the time when a more desirable tree may be planted.

Lawn Making Advice

Contrary to general belief, almost anyone can have a beautiful, velvety green lawn. To be sure, certain fundamental principles must be followed, but they are few and very simple to grasp. If your lawn making efforts have not been crowned with success, try again this spring. If you follow the suggestions below carefully you will always have the kind of lawn you've always wanted:

SOIL: A sandy loam is ideal for a lawn but not a necessity. It is well, however, to approximate this type of soil, which can be done by working in a little sand with soils which consist principally of clay, or working in a little clay with soils that are very sandy.

PREPARATION OF SEED BED: Spade the area which is to be made into a lawn to the depth of six inches, provided this is not deeper than the top soil covering the area. After spading work the soil with hoe and rake until it is finely pulverized.

APPLYING PLANT FOOD: Apply four pounds of complete plant food per one hundred square feet evenly over the area and work it lightly into the top couple of inches of soil. This is important for few soils contain, in an available form, the many food elements grass plants need for healthy growth.

SEED: As in most things, cheap seed is false economy. Buy good seed suitable for your location. Consult your local seedsman. Remember that shady areas in your lawn must be seeded with shade-tolerant grasses.

SEEDING: Apply the seed evenly. If you seed by hand, apply half of the seed lengthwise and the other half crosswise. After seeding, roll the area or tamp it with a wide board to assure good contact of the seed with the soil.

WATERING: Immediately after rolling, water the lawn thoroughly, using a very fine spray. Water daily thereafter until the seeds germinate. After the seeds germinate, water thoroughly once or twice weekly, as needed.

CLIPPING: Do not let the new lawn grow higher than three inches. Never cut it shorter than one and one-half inches. Remove the clippings from the lawn.

It is best to make your lawn as early in spring as possible, for then the grass has an opportunity to become established before the hot, trying months of summer.

Monday is Last Chance for Primary Enrollment

County Commissioner Fred C. Peters will sit at the Lower Merion Township Building, Ardmore, from 7:30 to 8:30 P. M., Monday evening, March 23, to enroll voters from the township and from the borough of Narberth according to party.

This will be the last opportunity for citizens not enrolled to get their names on the registry books in time to permit them to cast a ballot at the Primary Election, April 28.

Yellow Crocus in Bloom

An early sign that spring is really here is the blooming of a yellow crocus on the lawn of the home of E. C. Griswold, on Chestnut avenue, Narberth.

Narberth Boys' Club, who dropped a 25-18 basketball decision to RCA-Victor team in Philadelphia this week, was eliminated from the Passon tourney.

Haverford College's fencers were foiled (all punsters should be shot) last week at Baltimore by Johns Hopkins' undefeated team, 12½-4½.

Al Bonniwell, Main Line League star and former Lower Merion High player, still holds the Eastern Inter-collegiate Basketball League scoring record he hung up at Dartmouth last year of 145 points. Bill Nash, Columbia's sharpshooter, could come within but seven points of the mark this year. . . . In the total season this year Mike O'Meara, Villanova's star forward, made 131 points out of the team's total of 561.

This Main Line is quite likely to have a few local sons breaking into big-league baseball. Ben Geraghty, former Villanova infielder, is looking good at shortstop for the Dodgers at Clearwater, Fla., while Manager Jimmy Dykes has ordered three Main Liners to report to the White Sox farm, the Richmond club of the Piedmont League, on March 30. They are Mickey Gavin, Joey Burns and Johnny Brennan, former Lower Merion High and Main Line League infielders.

Bryn Mawr can tie Penn Wynne for the second-half title in the Main Line League by winning this week's game from the first-half champs. Last week Penn Wynne won from the Haverford Aces, while Bryn Mawr defeated Narberth, loser of seven straight in the second series, 36-23.

Rosemont College's sextet met another undefeated girls' team last weekend at Rosemont. One had to lose, and it was Rosemont, 32-26, thus becoming the forty-sixth straight victim of Manhattanville College of New York City.

Merion Cricket Club C defeated the Penn A. C., 3½-2½, last week in a Women's Indoor Tennis League match at the Pennac. On the Merion team were Ruth Gomery, Mrs. J. McCaskey, Mrs. W. Sargent, Peggy Stroud.

Tony Sala, Villanova's intercollegiate light-heavyweight champ, retained his laurels at the Penn State tourney by whipping, successively, Ed Dluski, Syracuse; Tony Ortenzi, Western Maryland; William Smith, Harvard captain.

Anne Page, Merion Cricket Club star and holder of several championships, reached the final in the English squash racquets championship only to be defeated by Mrs. Sheila McKechie. Cecile Bowes, Cynwyd, reached the quarterfinals in the same tournament.

Haverford Township High's mermaids journeyed to Abington Monday, returned with their undefeated record untarnished. Score, 40-35. It was the closest to defeat the Haverford girls have been since 1934. Captain Doris Kiehl, Betty Moore, Jane Morton and Eleanor Evans starred for the Forders.

Lebanon Downs Lower Merion 31-28 as Final Rally Fails

Before a crowd of 6000 at the Palestra Wednesday night, Lower Merion High School was eliminated from the State championship basketball tournament when the Lebanon High nosed out the Maroon, 31-28.

Trailing, 24-17, as the final quarter started, Coach Bill Anderson's boys valiantly tried to overcome the lead, but fell short by three points.

Lower Merion had won the District 1 P. I. A. A. champion last Friday night at Villanova College by defeating Morrisville High School, 39-15.

Americanism Program Planned

An Americanism and National Defense program, to be presented at the Narberth School in the near future, was planned at a meeting of the Harold D. Speakman American Legion Post Auxiliary meeting on Monday night.

Mrs. Roland K. Hewitt is in charge of arrangements for the speaker and the date of the program will be announced later.

The unit again will sell poppies this year.

Materials for garments to be given the Needlework Guild were distributed by Mrs. John Mowrer.

Tax Deadline Extended

The State Department of Revenue has extended the deadline for filing personal property tax returns from March 15 until midnight, March 31.

Recreation Board Makes Borough Playground Plans

Paul King, Penn senior, will again supervise Narberth's playgrounds. His assistants will be Miss Elizabeth T. Miesen and Isaac B. Knoll, Narberth teachers.

A budget of $1400 for the season's activities, equally appropriated by the school board and borough council, was also decided upon at last week's meeting of the Recreation Board. Members present were Dr. LeRoy A. King, president; William H. Durbin, secretary, and Mrs. H. R. Rinehart.

Improvements were planned for the tennis courts, to open early in May. The playgrounds will be in use beginning the latter part of June.

Club Women to Visit Artists' Studios Tuesday

The Art Department of the Montgomery County Federation of Women's Clubs, will visit the studios of two famous artists, Samuel Yellin, artist in metal, and the Willett Studios of Stained Glass on Tuesday. Members of clubs who wish to attend are to meet at the Willett Studios, 3900 Girard avenue, Philadelphia, at 1.30 that afternoon, Mrs. William H. Boardman, Jr., chairman of the Art Department of the Women's Community Club of Narberth, will take the reservations by calling her at Narberth 2943-J.

Members of the Women's Community Club who wish to go to see the Lenox China Factory, at Trenton, N. J., are also to communicate with Mrs. Boardman. There will be several trips to the factory, and will include at each time ten or twelve members of the club. The first trip to the Lenox plant will be on April 2.

Education for Citizenship Discussed Before Chapter

Mrs. Charles M. Stuard, of Ardmore, State chairman of Americanism of the N. S. D. A. R., gave an interesting talk on the function of the committee of Americanism in educating the foreigner to become a good citizen of this country at the meeting of the Dr. Benjamin Rush Chapter on Monday afternoon. She also mentioned that the State organization had established a Log Cabin Library at the Kate Duncan D. A. R. School in the mountains. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Frederick A. Egmore on Elmwood avenue.

The assistant hostess was Mrs. A. W. Ward.

The Ways and Means Committee of the chapter will hold a luncheon and card party at the home of Mrs. J. H. Baker, 290 Haverford avenue, Narberth, next Monday afternoon. Reservations may be made by Friday with Mrs. J. H. Baker, or Mrs. Joseph H. Miller, the acting chairman.

Bryn Mawr Red Men Hold Fortieth Annual Banquet

About 300 members and guests were present last Friday when the Choctaw Tribe, Improved Order of Red Men, sat down to their fortieth annual banquet at the Bryn Mawr Fire Company Hall.

Honor guest was William Ristine, Bryn Mawr, first sachem of the organization, who was lauded by Pennsylvania's great sachem, and by great Chiefs Charles E. Bell and John H. Perkins.

Carl Newborg, Narberth, was toastmaster. Every town along the Main Line was well represented at the gathering.

In the Schools

The last performance of our spring operetta will be given tonight. Tickets will be on sale at the door for people who have not bought tickets yet.

The kindergarten is learning about transportation. They are starting to make a covered wagon. They are also finishing a school bus which they made from crates. The children have made small cars and have drawn pictures on transportation. They are making a poster on which appears the different methods of transportation. Some of them are cars, trains, boats and airplanes. There are also early means of transportation shown.

In the first grades the children are beginning bird books in Miss McAuliffe's room and in Miss Meisen's room, illustrating booklets which they made after they had had the "Dutch Twins" read to them. They are interested in home life of people and are building houses of their own, large enough to play in. They expect to make pottery, rugs, pictures in art class to put into them.

The second grades are studying community life. In Miss Bishop's room they have made a Post Office, and in Miss Stock's room they have built a railroad station in connection with this subject. They also study how people live in other communities.

Miss Dale's room is interested in history. They have just completed a feudal castle and are now beginning a project on Boonesborough.

Miss Miller's nature study classes have been studying birds. They have talked about common birds, studied their habits and made pictures of them.

Next week we hope to give you more news about the upper grades.
MARY LOU PAUL.

Parents' Night Tonight

The upper school of the Lower Merion Junior High School will present its thirteenth annual Parents' Night program this Friday evening at eight o'clock in the school building. Dances and various gymnastic drills will be given under the direction of Miss Marjorie Huff and Elmer Unger. Last evening the lower school gave its program.

Knox to Address Women

Colonel Frank Knox, candidate for the Republican nomination for President, will address the Republican Women of Pennsylvania Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hannah Penn House, Philadelphia. A reception from four until six will be held in honor of Colonel and Mrs. Knox.

Address Young Republicans

At a dinner meeting last evening at Merion Mansion, J. Lowber Stokes, former Congressman, and Harold W. Scott, of Merion, chairman of the Republican Citizens' Committee of Lower Merion and Narberth, addressed the Young Republican Council. John McGarvey, Bryn Mawr, district Council chairman, presided.

Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Cousin of Poe, Dies in Narberth

Mrs. Esther L. Hoskins, who died last Friday at the home of her son, Eugene B. Hoskins, of 504 Haverford avenue, Narberth, was buried in Baltimore, Maryland, her birthplace and home, following funeral services Saturday evening at her son's residence.

Mrs. Hoskins, who was 80, came to live in Narberth following the death of her husband, John G. Hoskins, a little over a year ago.

With her sister, Mrs. Catherine Counselman, of Collingswood, N. J., who survives her, she held the distinction of being the nearest living blood relative of Edgar Allen Poe, a second cousin to the poet.

She is also survived by two other sons, Edmund S. Hoskins, of Baltimore, and J. Clifton Hoskins, of Newark, N. J.

Penn Alumni Compromise on Valley Forge Plan

University of Pennsylvania Alumni has submitted to University authorities a compromise plan designed to get their pet project, a college of liberal arts at Valley Forge, under way at last.

The alumni agreed to support a move for a recreational ground for the entire student body at Valley Forge. In return, they asked establishment of the "little college" as part of the recreational plan.

Thomas S. Gates, president of the University, called the proposal "a highly valuable contribution," and promised to submit it to the trustees. He added that in the near future a specific plan, giving "due recognition" to the alumni's desires, will be made public.

The University owns a 175-acre tract at Valley Forge. It was presented by Henry Woolman, of Haverford, for use as a special restricted college which would be part of the University.
